

My Life Story

North American/Australia

By Bridget Betts and Afshan Ahman

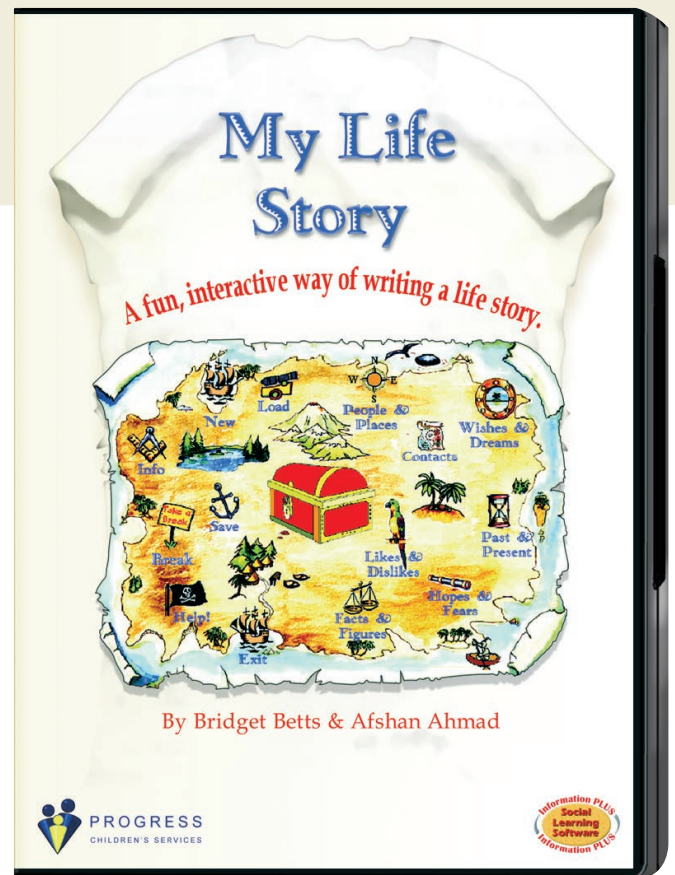

Making sense of their pasts helps children prepare for new relationships and a new future. My Life Story provides a fun and creative framework for recording a child's personal information. It includes more than 40 activities aimed at helping young people think and talk about what has happened in their life, how they see themselves now, and what their hopes, fears, wishes and dreams are for the future.

Children can take control and choose where to start and how they navigate through the "treasure-island" map as they complete the activities.
